

Here They Come Again

Cockney Rejects

You can't do nothing no more
Or they'll be knocking on your door
No matter what you think of that
You're never gonna get 'em back
Everywhere that you go
They' got you marked you know
They've got it in for you
For every little thing that you do

Here they come again
I've got to run again
They're after me again
I've got to flee again
I've got to get away
Come back another day

Here they come again
They're coming again

No matter what they do to you
You've got to see it through
They're gonna put you through hell
Cos they know your mush too well
Remember what they done to me
They made my life a misery
You just can't give in
Can't sit there and let them win
