

Brian's Song

Code

Struck down you died, one December night
Taken in cold blood, under Texas twilight
The headlines all read, it was "punks vs. the jocks"
As your killer walks free, we're still left with this loss

We must teach tolerance, and stop this senseless violence
We are at war
This war we will fight
But not with our fists
Vengeance will shed in the name of education
So sad we watch daily on the nightly news
Another act of violence, another taken too soon
From the streets, from the hands of man so hateful and unjust
We must destroy this callus mind set and build each other up

No we need no more!
No more
No more
No more
No more
Need no more, we don't need no more
Need no more, we don't need no more
Need no more, we don't need no more
Need no more, we don't need no more

[Chorus]
