

18 Wheels

Cody Johnson

18 wheels and 100 miles an hour
Trying to make it on time 'cause I wanna get home
I'm goin' on home

18 wheels now I'm tryin' to slow down
I don't know when or how or if I'll get home
But I'm goin' on home

And you never know what's waitin' in God's plans
You never know when he's gonna strike us or when
I spend my whole life chasin' down these ole' roads
Now I'm goin' on home

Well I made my last load too early, too late
Now I'm crossin' on over through them pearly gates
Yeah, I'm finally home

Don't you cry for me, 'cause I'm in a better place
I know sometimes you'll still see my face
But I'm home
Y'all just remember I'm home

You never know what's waitin' in God's plans
You never know when he's gonna strike us or when
I spend my whole life chasin' down these ole' roads
Now I'm finally home

Oh yeah!

You never know what's waitin' in God's plans
You never know when he's gonna strike us or when
I spend my whole life chasin' down these ole' roads
But now I'm finally home
Yes, I'm finally home
