

A Different Day

Cody Johnson

I wish I'd been born in a different day, with cowboys like old Gus McCrae. I'd just saddle up and ride away.
I wish I'd been born in a different day.

Well, I wish I could've lived in a different time, when Willie and Waylon walked the line. It's an era long gone and it seems a crime. I wish I could've lived in a different time.

Well, I'm stuck out here in no man's land. Just an ace of spades in a diamond flush hand. I still do the best I can to fit in, but time it ain't ever really been my friend.

Well I wish you could've seen me in a different light.
I wish I could've been your shining knight, but i'll always be a friend in your eyes. Well, I wish you could've seen me in a different light.

And now I'm stuck out here in no man's land. I'm just an ace of spades in a diamond flush hand. I still do the best I can to fit in,
but time it ain't ever really been my friend.

Well I wish I'd been born in a different day, with cowboys like old Gus McCrae, and I'd have just saddled up and rode away. I wish I'd been born in a different day.
