

Long Dark Road

Cold Chisel

It's a long dark road, leads me to where I'm going.
It's a hard, hard way, and I got no way of knowing.

I can see you dressing up, and wanting someone's blessing
And I know it's not for me

It's a long dark road, It's a hard, hard way

It's a long, dark road, each step that I take to nowhere
And I travel alone, no trace of the things we once shared.

What we once were sharing all the hopes and dreams and caring
Are cast aside and left to bleed

It's a long dark road, It's a hard, hard way

I can see you dressing up, and wanting someone's blessing
And I know it's not for me
What we once were sharing all the hopes and dreams and caring
Are cast aside and left to bleed

It's a long dark road, It's a hard, hard way
And I travel alone, it's a long dark road.
