

1931

Cold Harbour

Dear life, I've been working for way too long.
My childhood haunts me, as does growing old
Bare foot walking the streets
A glimmer of hope and now I'm back down on my knees
It's been a long time now,
This is the end of my life
How could I ever forget?
but between my heart and soul.
With all these words unsaid.
You mean nothing to me.
Nothing at all.
But between my heart and soul,
I will never forget
I'm at the point in my life where it not getting better.
When the world we live in casts us no hope.
I'm a broken man, just trying to forget,
What have I done to deserve this?
It's been a long time now.
Goodbye, My life is over
This time, I'm giving up
Goodbye.