

Betrayed

Cold Harbour

I dig the graves for the ones I've lost
Some are friends, but some are not
Still searching for my own piece of mind
Keep searching, but I am always left behind

So much time but nothing left to show
I'm just going to have to take it slow
Sooner or later I will be left with no one
Will this life ever be made
Getting used to feeling of being betrayed
I'm facing choices I don't want to take
Knowing it will be a big mistake

Sometimes I feel like I'm going to break
Some people are real, but most are fake
I fell like I have slowly decayed

I am now taking the floor
This is nothing like I have had before
Like the ones I do not have no more
I have no time for you anymore
My life is like a revolving door
I am going ashore
I'm facing choices I don't want to take
Knowing it will be a big mistake
Sometimes I feel like I'm going to break
