

Distance

Cold Harbour

If I had one chance to make you happy
I wouldn't know what to say
Lets slip away
Collection of blank memories
Of what I can't believe
Looking back, I can't remember
The person i long to be
I'm only half way home
They talk aloud of all there problems
Reminds me that I'm all alone that moment I have been waiting for seems so far away
I'm still alone every single day
Opening every door with hope that your behind it
But all I see, all i feel is nothing
Day dreaming again,
Will i ever see you again?
Will my mind ever stop being this strained?
Will i ever come back to that state of mind?
Being content with the life i live seems impossible.
Will this distance ever go away?
Saying goodbye as if its the last.
Trapped in this loneliness.
Feel like I'm living alone.
Stuck in this dark place.
Meet me there.
I'm all alone.
I never knew loving some one so much,
Would make me such a fuck up
My hopes and dreams the only thing that I believe.
