

Another Pill

Cold

You're all the same, you lose, you win
Your mystery hides all your feelings
You're on your way to medicate
No one to hold, no one to sing

Take another pill for love, let it open
Up your mind to
Be free again
Think of everyone you've lost, let them
Open up your heart to Complete yourself

You're all alone with broken wings
Your life hinges on your direction
Look to the stars to medicate
Listen to hear the whole world sing

The world to hold, the world to sing live again
