

It's All Good

Cold

Take another motherfucking hit of LSD
Let all the love inside the world belong to you
Well, I can't understand just why you went away
Too young to feel the pain & bitterness of love
Well, I can never understand a motherfucking
Word you'd ever say
And all the people that you hurt
Came down on you
And I can't understand just why you went away
I sat and waited for the day you'd come back home

Well it was all good

Take a loaded gun and blow my fantasy away
Turn off the light and shine the spotlight
Down on you
Well, I could never understand a motherfucking word
You'd ever say
And all the people you hurt came down on you
Well I can't understand just why you went away
I sat and waited for the day you'd come back home

You are my hope, my god, my love, my fear, my gun
It's over, it's all good
Till the world came crumbling down
Oh well it's all over
It's all good, until the world came crumbling down
Oh well it's all over
It's all good, until the world came crumbling down
World came crumbling, crumbling, crumbling, crumbling

Well it was all good
