

The color fades away
And everything turns black and white tonight... tonight...
I thought you would always stay
Somehow I'm not on the right side of the night
I was wrong

When the days turn to weeks
You'll be thinking about the mistakes you made

Nothing here will ever be the same
If you are gone
I'll do my best to look for ways to stay
Closer to where you are
So do what you think is best for you now
And carry on
Just carry on

Everything can change in a blink of an eye
But don't forget you will be missed
The pain will fade but the scars will stay
Because the memory is stronger
Than the months or the years
Of regrets and tears
The guilt is nothing you can't endure
So set aside your fears and come alive again

Nothing here will ever be the same
If you are gone
I'll do my best to look for ways to stay
Closer to where you are
So do what you think is best for you now
And carry on
Just carry on

Can you hear the broken words
Calling out for you
Can you hear the broken words
Calling out for you
Calling out for you

Nothing here will ever be the same
If you are gone
I'll do my best to look for ways to stay
Closer to where you are
So do what you think is best for you now
And carry on
Just carry on
