

Chasing Dreams

coldrain

I used to live my life behind closed doors
I wait to step outside
Thought I had the answers everytime
Blinded by my pride
I never crossed the line

But little did I know
You need to take a risk to fight
Nothing is left but scarred
I know it's unknown

There is no one who we cannot see
There is no one to what we cannot seem
So I'll be the one who still believes
We can make a difference in this world
Chasing our dreams

Never say it's over when you're down
Don't every surrender
If they throw you into the crowd
Just pick yourself back up
Fight for what you want

Life is a struggle
Only the strongest will survive
So keep your head up high
As long as you're alive

There is no one who we cannot see
There is no one to what we cannot seem
So I'll be the one who still believes
We can make a difference in this world
Chasing our dreams

There is no one to what we can relieve

There is no one who we cannot see
There is no one to what we cannot seem
So I'll be the one who still believes
We can make a difference in this world
Chasing our dreams
Chasing our dreams
Chasing our dreams
Chasing our dreams
Chasing our dreams
Chasing our dreams
Chasing our dreams
