

Fade Away

coldrain

Stop saying that you care
Acting like you're always there for me
Just start being real for once
I think you owe me that much
Because every time
You complicated everything
I tried to be a better man
Played your endless games
Driving me insane
Buried myself everyday

Until the end
You never learned you never learned what it means to love
You never learned you never learned
So this is my good bye
I'll sing for you every night until
All the memories you left inside me fade away

Stop acting like you know
How to make this work
Tell me honestly did you think I'd stick around
To let you get the best of me again
Now I'm through
Sacrificing everything for you
Its time to face the truth
My life is not for you

Until the end
You never learned you never learned what it means to love
You never learned you never learned
So this is my good bye
I'll sing for you every night until
All the memories you left inside me fade away

All these memories will fade away

Until the end
You never learned you never learned what it means to love
You never learned you never learned
So this is my good bye
I'll sing for you every night until
All the memories you left inside me fade away

Until the end
You never learned you never learned what it means to love
You never learned you never learned
So this is my good bye
All the memories you left inside me fade away
