Die Knowing

Comeback Kid

I was searching the streets where we lost our stride, making ou r way through the earth My heart was marching to a different beat while my choices were making it harder to find You took the straight and narrow, prying eyes watching from ove rhead I took the other, down, but recovered and I would do it all ove r and over again

Disappointment, dedication Elevated catastrophe

Die knowing that you lived to find Die knowing where your friendships lie Die knowing you gave nothing less Die knowing it was imminent Die knowing what your failures find Die knowing where your friendships lie Die knowing you gave nothing less Die knowing it was imminent