Step Ahead

Comeback Kid

Back again Right where I started And I can't find anything To take me out of your Shallow waters That I've been drowning in so long Who's here to take me out

Time to face another day But will it be just like the last one It's up to me to make the difference this time I'll face another day And it won't be just like the last

You talk loud without words I've had enough manipulation

I found my way out I'm not a slave to your game

Taking back what's mine
