First Time For Everything

Coney Hatch

Look at me, just a shadow of myself And look at you, you're moving on to something else You tell me, silly boy, you shouldn't feel the way you do No one gets to have their cake and eat it to. But I'm no boy, I am a man Oh, and I thought you'd understand

But there's a first time for everything And for everything a price There's a first time

Oh love, is it down to games that everyone must learn You give your heart away, and hope it gets returned And when you turn to find an empty place that used to be for me Count it to experience and end it gracefully You live your life now while you can And I hope you'll understand

That there's a first time for everything And for everything a price There's a first time (first time)

But there's a first time for everything And for everything a price There's a first time

There's a first time for everything (first time) And for everything a price There's a first time, oh There's a first time, oh A first time
