

Law & Order

Conflict

No more law & order, that word says it all. It's Just one human being Denying another of self rule. The police ain't authority for all they do Is Serve the state, they do their dirty work to make the people learn, they Interrigate, discriminate, smash demos and assault, they sort out all queers
And keep the wogs locked in a vault and they're here for protection but Protection for who? They all wear that same badge that says FUCK YOU ALL Oh yeah, they're here to maintain rights, they're here to keep the peace.
They've also got a right to lock up and not release any form of rebel. They'll Even work against their own, because they bribe them very well and they may Also get a home. Protect their privilege no matter what the cost, now you're Piggy in the middle and they couldn't give a toss. They shit back and laugh
Yes they laugh at you too, because they also wear a badge that says we use
You!, It's Just the same old story of a state gone wrong, where possessions Matter and people don't be surprised that we've turned against you because if You take their side, it's FUCK YOU TOO!
