Burning A Hole In My Mind

Connie Smith

Though it happened long ago the hurt just won't let go And it's burning a hole in my mind

I see her and I see you and the things we used to do And it's burning a hole in my mind

I said I'd forget and I tried but my heart tells my tongue that it lied

Though I tried to forgive every moment I live is a torture the devil designed

In my mind's eye I see how you made a fool of me and it's burning a hole in my mind

(Though it happened long ago the hurt just won't let go Is a torture the devil designed)

In my mind's eye I see how you made a fool of me

And it's burning a hole in my mind it's burning a hole in my mind
