

I'd Rather Be A Fool

Connie Smith

I guess I'm just the fool they call me
For loving you the way I do.
But, I would rather be a fool dear
Than be so lonely without you.

They tell me that a fool can't miss love.
They tell me that a fool don't know.
But, if I had to live without you
I'd rather be a fool than go.

I guess I'll stay the fool they call me
For without you there's nothing left.
But, I would rather be a fool love,
Than be so lonely by myself.

They tell me that a fool can't miss love.
They tell me that a fool don't know.
But, if I had to live without you
I'd rather be a fool than go.
