I'd Rather Be A Fool

Connie Smith

I guess I'm just the fool they call me For loving you the way I do. But, I would rather be a fool dear Than be so lonely without you.

They tell me that a fool can't miss love. They tell me that a fool don't know. But, if I had to live without you I'd rather be a fool than go.

I guess I'll stay the fool they call me For without you there's nothing left. But, I would rather be a fool love, Than be so lonely by myself.

They tell me that a fool can't miss love. They tell me that a fool don't know. But, if I had to live without you I'd rather be a fool than go.
