

Love Is The Look You're Looking For

Connie Smith

Love puts the blush in your smile
And love is always in style
Love puts the stars in your eyes
Love is so hard to disguise
Love cures hate and bitterness
And love gives you courage from distress
Like a wave that keeps looking for the shore
Love is the look you're looking for
Love can beautify and love can satisfy
Love should always be your guide
Love is happiness and love is faithfulness
True love needs no place to hide
Love of joy will make you cry
And love will never ever die
Love won't deny rich or poor
Love is the look you're looking for
Yes love is the look you're looking for True love is the look you're looking for
