

I have bled and I have given the longest of rivers and the longest of ropes And you're not grasping and my light is sinking on the horizon Knee deep among your wreckage and uncertainty with anguish my crown and heartbreak my throne
I lay claim to this day - No love, no hope I've lost count of the second chances
I lay claim to this day - No love, no hope
