I've found myself Running out of time Relating to those that Just stopped trying Clinging to those little things And the light they bring I bow down to you Extinguished youth Scavengers became Future romancers And my angels carry A predatory glow I'm weaker by the day No way to be saved I bow down to you Extinguished youth Emptiness Drags me down To the depths With no sound It's what I lack That attracts (me) To the jaws Of defeat Mend me End me Mend me End me Mend me End me Mend me End me Let the future know I won't be there tomorrow Let the past know I gave them my all I'm aching for an end Grown thinner every day I bow down to you Extinguished youth