

Let It Ring

Conway Twitty

I lie in bed this lonely bed and suddenly I cry
The night is cold and I'm alone and you're the reason why
I never thought I'd miss someone the way that I miss you
I guess the joke's on me cause I'm the one who said we're through

You always saved your love for me no matter what the price
And even when you knew you'd lose you made the sacrifice
But I'm the one who always had to have somebody new I'd laugh and say don't call me now look who's calling who

But let it ring please don't answer cause I don't know what I'd say
If I heard your voice I might break down and throw my pride away
Just let it ring please don't answer that at least I know I've tried
And I'll still be the only one who knows how much I cried
And I'll still be the only one who knows how much I cried
