

When The Final Change Is Made

Conway Twitty

Lately I watched strange changes overcome you
Destroying the loving part of you I knew
You're letting someone turn you into a stranger
And when the final change is made I won't have you

When the final change is made I won't have you
Someone's got you chasing rainbows in your mind
He already owns your conscience but he's not true
Cause when the final change is made he'll have you

When the final change is made he'll have you
But he'll never own the part of you I love
And I'll turn to that loving part of you I knew
Cause when the final change is made I'll still want you
Yes when the final change is made I'll still love you