

Hey You

Cool For August

There is blood on the ground, washed away by the rain
There is no solution, there's no one to blame
They all have a vengeance, in a masquerade
All they have are reasons, why you should be the same
We don't need the answers, we don't look the same
What I give tomorrow, don't mean shit today
Hey you
Don't look so bad at all
Hey you
Don't look so bad at all
Two twins on the sofa, one pays the rent
The other just has a credit card, the money's spent
We don't need the answers, we don't look the same
What I give tomorrow, don't mean shit today
Hey you
Don't look so bad at all
Hey you
Don't look so bad at all
