Choose the One Who Loves You More

Copeland

rain rain rain on my mind i've got a secret life wipe wipe wipe it away nothing can make me dry fight all the while fight till i think i'm free fear reigns so we never see beautiful secret lives

it could make you,
face all your fears

smile smile in the day fear takes its place at night you're pretty in the rain i love your secret life

it can make you,

i could leave you well enough alone believing you'd be overcome and gone by grace away better off than if i stayed i could leave you walk away we'll save it for another day through all the wars i've come to know it's punches pulled, not towels thrown in when they come knocking on your heart's door choose the one who loves you more, oh and when you've found something to die for (it can make you face all your fears) they'll be knocking on your heart's door.
