

On Your Own

Corey Hart

Don't you know that your life you've been waiting
You've been holding inside, the voice of a child
Suddenly existence was a world of shadows
All the traces you knew, they disappeared
Something inside you told you to go
Follow your footsteps to the northern coastline
Were painting your canvas of colors will say...
(Baby you can fly on your own)
Just spread your wings and (dream of tomorrow)
(Baby you can fly on your own)
Over mountain tops to the summit of heaven
(Baby you can fly on your own)
Yea, yea, yes
Baby you can fly on your own
Mm yes, mm
As your journey leads you through the secret doorways
You uncover the pain buried so long
Somewhere inside you, (asking why)
Look for compassion, let the healing sun in
To guide you and (strengthen the courage you share)
(Oh, baby you can fly on your own)
Just spread your wings and (dream of tomorrow)
(Baby you can fly on your own)
Over mountain tops to the summit of heaven
(Baby you can fly on your own)
Yea, yea, yes
Baby you can fly on your own
Through the rainstorms that lie ahead
Your spirit always prevails
(Spirit always prevails)
All the beauty that resonates from you
Flying to the skies
(Skies)
Yes, oh no, no, no yes
(Baby you can fly on your own)
Just spread your wings and dream of tomorrow
(Baby you can fly on your own)
Over mountain tops to the summit of heaven
(Baby you can fly on your own)
Just close your eyes I know you will get there
(Baby you can fly on your own)
Yea, yea, yes
Baby you can fly on your own.
