

Always And Forever

Cory Morrow

i need you cause i love you
and i love you cause I've known you
always and forever
well time it flys
and time it runs by
and time will run out on us soon your eyes filled with tears from fighting your fears searching for who you are
and i will be here waiting my dear
always and forever
i need you cause i love you
well i love you cause I've known you
always and forever
the moon and stars
and the sun stretches far shining for all to veiw eternaly bound they light up the ground never once being untrue and you are for me
a light which i need
always and forever
and i love you cause I've known you
always and forever
always and forever
