

No One Can Touch You Now

Cosmic Gate

Well the winter came and went
But your heart was frozen over
And it never thawed again
I know he hurt you
Cut you deep
And you can feel it
When you're dazing in your dreams

And all of the scars he gave
In seasons they could fade away
But you could live them out again
And again

But after all that you've been through
There is nothing left of you
Everything within without
Withdrew, withdrew..

No one can touch you now
You've hidden away your heart
No one can touch you now
It's safer where you are

And I can't get through your doubt
Or find a way around
'Cause no one can touch you now
You've hidden away your heart

Will the summer chase away the storm
But your heart is frozen over
So you cannot feel the warmth
I won't hurt you, can't you see
But you still feel him
In your daze and in your dreams

And all of the scars he gave
In seasons they could fade away
But you could live them out again
And again

But after all that you've been through
There is nothing left of you
Everything within without
Withdrew

No one can touch you now
You've hidden away your heart
No one can touch you now
It's safer where you are

And I can't get through your doubt
Or find a way around
'Cause no one can touch you now
You've hidden away your heart

No one can touch you..
