Hello Somebody

Count Zero

Maybe I'm going through a phase. Lately I dwell on younger days

How stars would shine for me, and how it's different for me now

Weren't folks more easily enthused? Were they just keeping me amused? Guess over time the truth is shown, & so now I'm left alone.

Hello somebody Hello anybody

This world, it loves to pigeonhole, That way the demons take control Folks nod their heads but don't embrace the soul behind the fac

I'm drinking solid dusk to dawn Got no one to depend upon My only friend's the dial tone I'm sitting by the phone
