

Shelter

Covenant

If this was a cavern of concrete
In a forest with trees like towers
I would have a place to seek retreat
From their poisoned plastic flowers
If this was a shelter I would endure
In a world with faceless strangers
I would have a place to feel secure
From the ever present dangers