

So Much The Better

Cowboy Mouth

She's leaving the man that she left me for
She's leaving him 'cause she don't love him anymore

So much the better - Better forget her
Big blue eyes and a smile that could kill
So much the better - better forget her
But I'll bet he never will

She's always had trouble finding her way
She tries to hold onto memories that die day by day.

So much the better - Better forget her
When she smiles all time could stand still
So much the better - Better forget her
But I'll bet he never will.

Say what you think you're needing to say
Do what you need to do
No matter what anyone has to say
You have to live with you.
With you.

I'm watching it all from a distant place
I know how she feels, but I've worn that look on his face.

So much the better - Better forget her
Big blue eyes and a smile that could kill
So much the better - better forget her
But I'll bet -

So much the better - Better forget her
When she smiles all time could stand still
So much the better - Better forget her
But I'll bet I never will.

I never will.
I never will.
