

Finished Again

Cows

What's the use of talking, I'm finished again
Clean yourself up, I'm finished again
You heard what I said

What's the use of talking, I'm finished again
Everyone already knows what I am
Everywhere I go everything looks the same
And everyone says that I'm finished again

I have no more message to send
I have nothing left to defend
I can't keep my mouth shut and pretend
Cause I'm all done, I'm finished again

My luck's all gone and so are my friends
And your love just feels heavy like lead
It just reminds me of what I was back when
Back before I was finished again
