

Tomorrow Tonight

Craig Campbell

Tomorrow, you're gonna pick your clothes off these hardwood floors and walk out the door, yeah
Tomorrow, you're gonna hate the sun for rising and breaking up what we got going in cause

Tonight, I'm kissing you right and holding you like this night ain't ever gonna end
Tonight, gonna lose track of time, try to keep that moonlight shining bright up in the sky girl
I'm gonna change your tomorrow, tonight, yeah

Tomorrow, you're gonna catch yourself smiling cause you can't help thinking about the night before
Tomorrow, you're gonna find your way right on back to my place but girl that's gonna have to wait

Tonight, I'm kissing you right and holding you like this night ain't ever gonna end
Tonight, gonna lose track of time, try to keep that moonlight shining bright up in the sky, girl
I'm gonna change your tomorrow, tonight

We can't keep the world from turning
Ohh but we can slow it down...yeah

Tonight, I'm kissing you right and holding you like this night ain't ever gonna end
Tonight, gonna lose track of time, try to keep that moonlight shining bright up in the sky girl
I'm gonna change your tomorrow, tonight
