

World Filled With Love

Craig David

Saw some pictures in the paper, of a girl I'd met the day before.
I couldn't believe that hours later,
I had reporters knockin at my door,
But I used to dream about, the life I'm living now and, I didn't think I'd miss those things from the past, and I'm not afraid of leaving, or letting go of what I had,
cause I realize that now there's no turning back.

R: Cause I'm caught living in a world filled with love,
so when tear drops fall from me like rain from above,
I can brush my troubles away,
know that deep down inside,
I got sun shining in my life.

I used to think I could get better, my girlfriends always used to get me wrong.
Some just sent messages, love letters, but those kinda feelings never lasted long.
Cause now the only love I find's within a castle made of sand, and when the tide goes out it's swept away.
Though I got my peace of mind,
and time is firmly on my side, and through the battles I can safely say...

R: Cause I'm caught living in a world filled with love,
so when tear drops fall from me like rain from above,
I can brush my troubles away,
know that deep down inside,
I got sun shining in my life.

R: Cause I mean I'm caught living in a world filled with love,
so when tear drops fall from me like rain from above,
I can brush my troubles away,
know that deep down inside,
I got sun shining in my life.
I'm caught living in a world filled with love,
so when tear drops fall from me like rain from above,
I can brush my troubles away,
know that deep down inside,
I got sun shining in my life.
