

California

Crashdiet

Awake at dawn, I lay in my bed
All these memories cut through my head
The nights dissolving blanket, hides the beast of day
Why does it always end up like this?
Empty bottles, broken fists
Like my hunger rapes me, leaves me in a mess

It's like a violent nation
Can you feel the commotion?

(It's surreal)
Another night in California
(you should know)
See her dance but I think about you
(so unreal)
One night in California
(that you're gone)

Stay the beast raging inside
It rips me open, clouds my sight
Like a zombie, hunting, I seek out flesh

It's like a violent nation
Can you feel the commotion?

(It's surreal)
Another night in California
(you should know)
See her dance but I think about you
(so unreal)
One night in California
(that you're gone)

You had me all along girl
You marked me deep inside
I wasted all we had girl
Now I rage into thenights

(It's surreal)
Another night in California
(you should know)
See her dance but I think about you
(so unreal)
One night in California
(that you're gone)
That you're gone
(it's surreal)

Another night in California
(you should know)
See her dance but I think about you
(so unreal)
One night in California
(that you're gone)

Another night, another night
(it's surreal)

In California
(you should know)
See her dance but I think about you
(so unreal)
One night in California
(that you're gone)
