

Blue Condition

Cream

Don't take the wrong direction passing through
Instead of deep reflection of what's true,
For it's a combination of judgments made by you
That cause a deep dejection all the way through.

No relaxation, no conversation,
no variation
In a very dark blue, blue condition.

Early rising every day.
You must be enterprising in your way,
For you will hear no laughter, nor see the sun;
Life would be one disaster all the way through.

No relaxation, no conversation,
no variation
In a very dark blue, blue condition.

Don't take the wrong direction passing through
Instead of deep reflection of what's true, hey.
For it's a combination of judgments made by you
That cause a deep dejection all the way through.

No relaxation, no conversation,
no variation
In a very dark blue, blue condition.

No relaxation, no conversation,
no variation
In a very dark blue, blue condition.
