Illusion

The sun rises to another day My constitution keeps changing 'Til it slips away So I lie awake and stare My mind thinking, just wandering Does anybody care? Should I stay or go

Should I sleep or stay awake Am I really happy or is it all Just an illusion

Sitting in my room now Hiding thoughts Just hoping one day I'll get out I hear a voice call my name Breaking trance, so silent So I can stay the same

Should I stay or go Should I sleep or stay awake Am I really happy or is it all Just an illusion

[Guitar Break]

Wait now, many things left unsaid This life remains the same But I change I try to fool myself in believing Things are going to get better But life goes on

Should I stay or go Should I sleep or stay awake Am I really happy or is it all Just an illusion Just an illusion
