

Long Weekend

Cris Cab

I was walking out the door on a Friday
I just couldn't make up my mind
And just when I pulled out of the driveway
I saw you as you rode right by

You had the bright blue eyes in the red hot sun
You smiled right back and the party begun
Will blast the gun, get the noose, having fun
And we ain't goin' nowhere

When the night is almost over but everyone is jammin' away
You know it's gonna be a long week-end!
Cause the drinks are gettin' colder
But we're still gettin' older, and say
You know it's gonna be a long week-end!

We watched the sunrise in the mornin'
Shinin' bright in the 3:05
Now you're swimming outside in the ocean
All there, yeah, you're by my side

You had the light brown hair in the red hot sun
When you smile right back where the party is from
Will blast the gun, get the noose, having fun
And we ain't goin' nowhere

When the night is almost over but everyone is jammin' away
You know it's gonna be a long week-end!
Cause the drinks are gettin' colder
But we're still gettin' older, and say
You know it's gonna be a long week-end!

If I ever make all the way back home
I know you and I will never be alone
We'll go dancing in the moon all night long
And nobody going anywhere

When the night is almost over but everyone is jammin' away
You know it's gonna be a long week-end!
Cause the drinks are gettin' colder
But we're still gettin' older, and say
You know it's gonna be a long week-end!
You know it's gonna be a long week-end!
You know it's gonna be a long week-end!
You know it's gonna be a long week-end!
You know it's gonna be a long week-end!
