

Where I Belong

Cris Cab

Where did the time go? Sun's still shining bright
Lost in vertigo, that's my kind of high
Left a photograph, off with your device
Taken power back, hope I get it right

But when I step inside
See your future where I belong
But when I step inside
See your future where I belong

Technological unidentified
One true miracle, learning how to lie
Led by memories, born by satellite
Thirst for energy, wasted further nights

But when I step inside
See your future where I belong
But when I step inside
See your future where I belong

Where did the time go? Sun's still shining bright
Lost in vertigo, that's my kind of high
Taken power back, hope I get it right

But when I step inside
See your future where I belong
But when I step inside
See your future where I belong
