Cry Lonely

Cross Canadian Ragweed

When the rain runs down your window And you can't hold back your tears And you're so afraid to be alone You know I'm always right here

You cry lonely And I come runnin' I come to your rescue; I'll chase your blues away You cry lonely, but you don't really want me And I won't be there one of these days

You always say your heart is breakin' Then you hear the wolf outside your door I know you, you just use me Till you don't need me anymore

You cry lonely And I come runnin' I come to your rescue; I'll chase your blues away You cry lonely, but you don't really want me And I won't be there one of these days

Someday when you know you really love me You're gonna cry my name And I'll be gone

You cry lonely And I come runnin' I come to your rescue; I'll chase your blues away You cry lonely, but you don't really want me And I won't be there one of these days

I won't be there When you cry my name I won't be there When you cry my name
