

Seasons

Crossbreed

when desire becomes alive when it fades it becomes inactive when attached separates cause you will not leave your destination break get up get up, give up your mind the season, the violence keeps coming back

breakdown

corruption inside and hateful crimes sorrowful days all full of despise defective minds and anxious vibes will never leave the meters sky high standing high, falling down simple lives will all come together animosity will always be till we relieve the children from their tears get up get up, give up your mind the seasons change in hatred
