

There's a search for you you were wished away pissing off fathers that you paid he waived the cross it flew in the wind now hes looking looking looking away now feel the loss - of energy feel it till you hear the devil call all your name

i feel the same you'll feel the same the ripping of your skin will make you run away i feel the same you'll feel the same till you hear the devil call your name

now he searched for god and he found the way but the road just burned away the lights go dim and your so-called god is now looking looking away now feel the loss - of energy feel it till you hear the devil call your name

are you still alive im still alive you just cant hear me i feel the same the devil calls your name
