

Mirror

Crossfaith

Heard your choice this time i fault rewrite to sight on you so rrow kill, i am this game i gave you round of shame tell me what do you see? again

blind told me "you can reach my hand" come on i break the relation disire cover all your choice myself your choice by myself your fucking face tear me down your pride is burnt choas has come i know inside of fear i can take that's not enough

faith! curse! proud is away from you faith! curse! proud and life are broken

against the mirror, you can reach my hand against the mirror don't be looking back you crying out i think you come to end of story your fail choice because nightmare reflect yourself mightmere you stand here alone falling to leave alone
