

King For A Day

Crown Of Glory

So what are you waiting for?
Just play your whole hand until it's through
Life's waiting in front of you
Just open up the door and let it in
You've prayed for better days
Common get your head out of your ass
It's like you against the world
Defy the storm and you will make the day

It's time to break the spell
The world lies at your feet
It's time to leave the cage
The world is yours

All that you had prayed for
Forget all about blood, sweat and tears
Just keep your head held high
You'll become king for one day
There's nothing to be afraid of
Don't care about the things they've said and done
Just keep your head held high
You'll become king for a day

Life's too short to compromise
Straight forward, the time is here and now
Don't care what might have been
Stop thinking about the things you cannot change
Live your dream don't dream your life
Go on get your chance don't hesitate
Forge your own destiny
Every moment counts 'cause there's no second chance
