

Oxygen

Crown the Empire

The chemicals
I think they're telling us we're not alone
The molecules
They're taking shape until we let them go

Breathe you in, breathe you out
When it's all too much
Breathe you in, breathe you out
You're my one true drug

I can hardly wait to float above the angels
I'm high again off your oxygen
Calling in the dark, you pull me through the stars
I'm so high again off your oxygen

There's something changing inside the way I see
The air I thought that I needed is just a memory
So captivated inside a world we dream

Breathe you in, breathe you out
When it's all too much
Breathe you in, breathe you out
You're my one true drug

I can hardly wait to float above the angels
I'm high again off your oxygen
Calling in the dark, you pull me through the stars
I'm so high again

The chemicals
I think they're telling us we're not alone
The chemicals
I think they're telling us we're not alone

I can hardly wait to float above the angels
I'm high again off your oxygen
Calling in the dark, you pull through the stars
I'm so high again off your oxygen
