

Signs of Life

Crown the Empire

I fill these bones with hollow promises
I can feel the world outside under my skin
And all these walls are slowly caving in
I would climb if I could find my way again

It feels so close, yet so far gone
It feels so close, but still

I'm looking for a sign of life behind the sky
Is anybody there?
Does anybody care?
A sign of life to redefine
Is anybody there?
Cause I just need a sign of life

(A sign of life)

Can I go on, lost without a trace?
Am I afraid to hold the light and lead the way?
I may be wrong, another face without a name
But I'm alive and I can see I'm not the same

It feels so close, yet so far gone
It feels so close, but still

I'm looking for a sign of life behind the sky
Is anybody there?
Does anybody care?
A sign of life to redefine
Is anybody there?
I'm fighting for a sign of life

(I'm fighting for a sign of life)

I'm looking for a way out, cause I'm way out and I'm on my own
I'm looking for a way out, cause I'm way out and I'm on my own
I'm looking for a way out, cause I'm way out and I'm on my own
I'm looking for a way out, cause I'm way out

I'm looking for a sign of life behind our eyes
Is anybody there? Does anybody care?

A sign of life to redefine
Is anybody there?
Does anybody care?
A sign of life behind our eyes
Is anybody there?
I'm fighting for a sign of life

(A sign, a sign)

(A sign, a sign)
