

Jennyfer

Crucified Barbara

Hey girl, you're beautiful, he said
But it turned out wrong again
He didn't mean to make you sad
Didn't know what you carry on your back
All the stones you painted with the colors of your sorrow the black in your soul
It'll never fade
You better deal with it
Don't walk away

It's a hard life
To be a tough girl
But deep within
You've not been here

Jennyfer
It's a dirty kinda love
Jennyfer
You don't need it anymore
Jennyfer
Let your heart have a rest
It's been broken so many times before

I'm here for you, he said
But he couldn't carry all your fears
He didn't mean to let you down
But he couldn't stay to dry your tears
All the friends who judge you
When the world is getting dark
In the longest hour
It's all fake, you better run girl
Or you will break

And It's a hard life
To be a tough girl
But deep within
You've not been here

Jennyfer
It's a dirty kinda love
Jennyfer
You don't need it anymore
Jennyfer
Let your heart have a rest
It's been broken so many times before

Your heart is too sad
It's a long lost dream coming back
No one to fear
No one could bring you down this time

Jennyfer
It's a dirty kinda love
It won't break your heart
Just tear you apart
It's a dirty dirty dirty kinda love

It's a dirty kinda love
Jennyfer
You don't need it anymore
Jennyfer
Let your heart have a rest

It's a dirty kinda love
Jennyfer
You don't need it anymore
Jennyfer
so many times before
