

Sitting in the pouring rain, wondering how your night was spent
I'm thinking of you
And every time I caused you pain, the good times came and went
What can I do?
Everything about me screams goodbye, I know that you can read that in my face
Ever even stop to wonder why? 'Cause I wonder, wonder, I wonder Wonder, wonder, I wonder

Chorus:

I'm taking my chances, Letting down my defenses
I'm open for something that's just not there
And it's leaving me blinded, to the chance I may find it
And all I keep thinking is I don't wanna be here
Driving by the house again, I see you let the flowers die
That isn't like you
So I guess I'll just believe it then, wilted roses never lie
So it has to be true
And every morning when I rise above the memory of you running t hrough my head
It shouldn't be so hard to be in love, and I wonder, wonder, I wonder
Wonder, wonder, I wonder

Chorus

Bridge:

I know there's something ringing in my ears
Oh I've got to get myself far away from here
Chorus: X2

I'm open for something that's just not there
